Journals and summaries are not accepted for grading later than 8 pm of the first day of the week following the work that was done in class. Any late journals will receive a zero (0) grade.

Guideline for Creating Your Journal

- ❖ Your journal can be maintained and added to for many years, creating a personal record of your work in the food service industry.
- ❖ Journal format - a three-ring binder, 1 ½-or 2-inches wide, with a clear-plastic slip cover over the front (so that you can personalize the cover), and a 5-to-8-tab divider. (We also suggest a black or white exterior for the binder.)
- ❖ You must have an entry for each week, word document and turned into Drop Box on D2L.

You must include:

- the name and date of the class;
- the (daily) objective for that class;
- recipe(s) for (a) specific dish(es) you prepared;
- a list of small wares and utensils you used to prepare that(those) dish(es);

- a summary of what you learned during this period;
- 5 pictures
- personal observations;
- chef's instructions comments
- any other information you received during that class.

Notebook Requirements:

It will be the responsibility of all Culinary Arts students to have a three-ring notebook. Each student will be held accountable for keeping the notebook neat, up to date and organized. The notebook should contain all lecture notes and recipes in an organized manner (i.e. Your Hard copies of your Journal Entries). You are building a reference guide for your future. It is recommended that you type all recipes and to edit and type lecture notes in order to make your notebook as concise and organized as possible. An organized notebook MUST contain section dividers to separate major content items and labeled as follows:

- Lectures (Cookies, Breads, Custards, Etc.)
- Pastry Principals
- Terminology
- Homework
- Sanitation
- Tests or Quizzes

This notebook will be graded from time to time (with or without notice). THIS SHOULD BE WHERE YOU KEEP YOUR SHEET PROTECTED RECIPE WORK FOR THE DAY AS WELL AS YOUR TIMELINES AND MENUS. This is part of your daily grades. The rewriting of notes and keeping the notebook up to date is a job that is to be done daily. Information sheets and recipes should be filed along with notes in the proper categories.

The goal is to create a learning tool and reference that will serve the student even beyond the scope of this course. The notebook will be reviewed periodically and is included in the measurement for the course.
