RATIONALE FOR THE COURSE:

This course is designed to prepare future educators to navigate, understand, and value the rich diversity of students and families in today's public school classrooms. Rather than viewing differences through a lens of accommodation, students will explore how various dimensions of identity—including race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, culture, language development, and diverse family structures—shape the learner's experience.

Emphasis is placed on developing cultural competence, breaking down systemic barriers to learning, and building authentic, respectful partnerships with families from all walks of life. Through self-reflection and the study of asset-based pedagogy, future teachers will gain the critical insights needed to foster inclusive classroom communities where every student feels seen, valued, and positioned for success.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is a study of lifespan development and learning with an emphasis on individual & group diversity. The students are required to participate in a field experience. Within the parameters of an approved articulation agreement, this course may transfer to an accredited Education program at a comprehensive four-year college or university.

To ensure a positive College experience, guidelines exist in numerous areas of campus life. The Student Code for The South Carolina Technical College System "The Student Code" (3-2-106.1) applies to all HGTC students. The Student Code sets forth rights and responsibilities of the individual student, identifies behaviors that are not consistent with the values of college communities, and describes the procedures that will be followed to adjudicate cases of alleged misconduct. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a civil manner, that is respectful of the rights of others, and that is compatible with the college's educational mission. Students are expected to comply with all of the college's duly established rules and regulations regarding student behavior while on campus; while participating in off-campus college sponsored activities; and while participating in off-campus clinical, field, internship, or in-service experiences. Students are expected to comply with all course requirements as specified by instructors in course syllabi and to meet the standards of acceptable classroom behavior set by instructors. For more information, login to your myHGTC account under "Student Rights and Responsibilities" card then select "Student Code of Conduct" or the "Student Catalog and Handbook."

NETIQUETTE: is the term commonly used to refer to conventions adopted by Internet users on the web, mailing lists, public forums, and in live chat focused on online communications etiquette.
