Part III: Grading and Assessment*EVALUATION OF REQUIRED COURSE MEASURES/ARTIFACTS*:

Students’ performance will be assessed, and the weight associated with the various measures/artifacts are listed below.

Methods of Assessment

Student learning will be evaluated through a variety of assessment methods designed to measure knowledge acquisition, comprehension, application, analysis, and critical thinking skills. Assessment formats may include multiple-choice examinations, short-answer questions, true/false questions, matching exercises, diagram identification, laboratory activities, homework assignments, quizzes, and comprehensive examinations. While some assessments evaluate factual knowledge, many require students to apply concepts, analyze information, solve problems, and make informed decisions consistent with professional radiologic practice.

Final course grades are determined through performance on unit examinations, quizzes, laboratory assignments, homework assignments, and the final examination.

Academic Support and Required Remediation

Students earning a score below 75% on any unit examination or below 70% on any quiz are required to participate in academic remediation. The student must contact the Student Success and Tutoring Center (SSTC) to schedule an appointment with the designated radiology tutor to review the assessment material and identify strategies for improvement. If a radiology tutor is unavailable, the student will be required to schedule a remediation session with the course instructor.

Grade Posting

Grades for examinations, quizzes, and assignments will typically be posted in Desire2Learn (D2L) within 24–48 hours after all students have completed the assessment or assignment submission period has closed. Grading timelines may vary depending on the type, length, and complexity of the assessment.

Laboratory Assignments

Students are responsible for submitting all laboratory assignments through the designated course submission method or D2L drop box, as directed by the instructor. Laboratory activities are considered in-class assignments and are expected to be completed during scheduled laboratory sessions. Additional laboratory time may be available with instructor approval.

Assignments not submitted by the established deadline will receive a grade of zero (0) unless otherwise permitted by the instructor in accordance with course and program policies.

EVALUATION***

|                   |      |
|-------------------|------|
| Tests             | 55%  |
| Assignments       | 5%   |
| Quizzes           | 10%  |
| Lab               | 5%   |
| Lab Proficiencies | 5%   |
| Final Exam        | 20%  |
|                   | 100% |

*Students, for the specific number and type of evaluations, please refer to the Instructor's Course Information Sheet.

GRADING SYSTEM:

Please note the College adheres to a 10-point grading scale A = 100 – 90, B = 89–80, C = 79 – 70, D = 69 – 60, F = 59 and below.

The Radiologic Technology Program utilizes a grading scale that differs from the standard college grading scale due to the rigor and professional requirements of the curriculum. In accordance with Student Policy 7: Didactic Course Grading, the grading scale for all RAD didactic courses is as follows:

Grade Percentage

|   |        |
|---|--------|
| A | 92–100 |
| B | 83–91  |
| C | 74–82  |
| D | 65–73  |
| F | 0–64   |

A minimum final course grade of 74% (C) is required to successfully complete a RAD course and progress within the Radiologic Technology Program. Students earning a final course grade below 74% will not be permitted to continue in the program sequence.

Final course grades are calculated using weighted course components as outlined by the instructor. Scores on individual assignments, examinations, quizzes, and other graded activities are calculated to the hundredth decimal place (two decimal places). Final course grades are also calculated to the hundredth decimal place and will not be rounded under any circumstances.

Example: A final course average of 73.99% will remain 73.99% and will be recorded as a failing grade. It will not be rounded to 74%.

Students are responsible for monitoring their academic progress throughout the semester and seeking assistance from faculty as needed to maintain satisfactory academic standing.

Grades earned in courses impact academic progression and financial aid status. Before withdrawing from a course, be sure to talk with your instructor and financial aid counselor about the implications of that course of action. Ds, Fs, Ws, and Is also negatively impact academic progression and financial aid status.

Part IV: Attendance

Horry-Georgetown Technical College maintains a general attendance policy requiring students to be present for a minimum of 80 percent (80%) of their classes to receive credit for any course. Due to the varied nature of courses taught at the college, some faculty may require up to 90 percent (90%) attendance. Pursuant to 34 Code of Federal Regulations 228.22 – Return to Title IV Funds, once a student has missed over 20% of the course or has missed two (2) consecutive weeks, the faculty is obligated to withdraw the student, and a student may not be permitted to reenroll. Instructors define absentee limits for their class at the beginning of each term; please refer to the Instructor Course Information Sheet.
